

I would appreciate knowing what you think- should I run for re-election?

Good Morning:

I have been working on this question for months. I can't believe how early people make the decision to run for re-election. In March I was telling everyone, I wanted to get through the budget process first.

In fairness to everyone involved, I think it's important I come to a conclusion in the next week. My son is coming from Vermont on the weekend and I want to share my answer with him.

I've heard from many in the community- all with great encouragement. I was surprised how several residents just assumed I'd be running again... I don't understand that at all.

While I serve the entire City of Auburn, I am accountable to the voters in Ward 1, so I'd like to know your answer to the question and why.

I only have email addresses for a few people in our ward, so please share this request with anyone you know who might want to weigh in.

I hope to hear from you. Thank you for your input.

With warmest regards,
